Last Issue

An alien space craft crash landed in Roswell New Mexico and was found by a rancher and his "gassy" wife. The government covered up the event and secretly took possession of the craft and all the alien contents. One might say, Something Stinks In Roswell, New Mexico.

Fast forward to present year October 31st, we learned that one alien battlesuit found aboard the craft has been reprogrammed to respond to human brainwaves. NSA Agent Simon Bane is entrusted to deliver the Zoom Suit via an Army Heli-carrier.

At 8,000 feet Simon leaps from the chopper in an attempt to steal the Zoom Suit! However, he has made a deadly error (well not deadly, but it's going to hurt), aliens are small. The suit doesn't fit! Simon and the Zoom Suit fall helplessly to Earth.

We now join Simon Bane falling to Earth at terminal velocity...

RE: Entertaining little short..., 20 August 2005

What first drew me to the Zoom Suit was the connection to Marvel's Iron Man. Now that I have a feel for the character, there is some of that, but it has also woven its own storyline with a main character that is a whole lot less sure of himself, apt to make mistakes and lose confidence. Iron Man was always cool, collected and seemingly in control, where as Zoom Suit offers someone a little more like the rest of us.

Marshall,
I'm a big Iron Man fan too, especially Bob Layton's run. Now when you say "Cool, collected and in control," you mean for an alcoholic playboy with a death wish and a god complex, right? Just kidding and thanks for watching.

FR: Author: Sockpuppets from United States
RE: Good for fans of anime, 19 July 2005

I saw this flick at San Diego Comic Con 2005 and loved it. They packed a lot into a short amount of time. In the 10 minute run time, you will see crashed UFOs, a young boy's discovery of a battle suit, relentless FBI agents, and a little childhood romance. I highly recommend this short!

Yeah man! That's like 70 years of packing in 10 minutes. If they would have let me direct Titanic I could have had you out of there in like a minute and a half... and free popcorn for everyone too! Thanks for the kind words.

Dear Z-Mail

Thank you so much John Taddeo for Zoom Suit # 1. I noticed lots of references to comic books and movies throughout the issue. I'm not sure that I would have tried on that costume. I noticed some very interesting things in alley trash. I laughed until my sides hurt throughout. There are literally hundreds of bonuses put in all panels. I notice more things every time I read the issue. There is one thing that bothers me.

I can not figure out how Agent Mann found Myles Mason's house. I wonder if there is some sort of GPS tracking device built into the suit. I suppose Doctor Tesla might have mentioned the location to Agent Mann.

- Allen Klingelhoets

Allen,
Mapquest... and thanks for reading.

FR: ronbothegreat
RE: Zoom Suit good fun for all

We saw it at this years San Diego Comiccon, and loved it. My daughter was asking for me to get her a zoom suit the rest of the con.

Dear Mr. Great,
We apologize but the Zoom Suit is a unique, "One of a Kind" item. However, we do have some X-80 Hunter Killer robots your daughter may enjoy. They are only $6,000,000,000 each, but we're running a special, buy two get one free. That'll be 12 billion. Cash or charge? ... and we do accept Paypal. Shipping and handling is free in the continental United States.

But seriously, it's very cool that Zoom Suit seems to have a very wide appeal. We get letters, great reviews and e-mails from both guys and gals 8 to 88. That "cross generation" (oops, did I just say that) appeal has been one of the most rewarding aspects of the project.

Thanks for watching and sharing Zoom Suit with your daughter. Have a great month and see you in 30!

Issue #2, Cover "B"
by Keron Grant

I, for one, am HOOKED on this one. It has it all, great art, shiny special effects and some of the most imaginative writing I have seen in ages! Zoom Suit has that true all-ages appeal. Finally a comic I can let my kid read, but only after I am done with it!

Issue #3, Cover "A"
by Bart Sears

Issue #3, Cover "B"
by Billy Patton

5 out of 5 stars! Zoom Suit is fun, action packed, and it has tons of funny comic references. If you buy only one comic ever, make sure this is it!

I can't describe how great this book is, it's really amazing. It sounds like an overstatement, but I've never seen anything like this before in a comic. It's ALL story and the printing process is visually stunning. It's seriously metallic crazy style awesome! Wow... just... wow. Zoom Suit is an exceptional example of what a comic book should be."

I can honestly say that the ensuing fire rescue scene in Zoom Suit #1 is one of the best superhero sequences I've read in years.

Issue #2, Retailer Variant
by Bob Layton

Fans, if you haven't had the chance to experience Zoom Suit, it's a charming, rollicking action adventure.

From your first look at Zoom Suit there is no doubt you have something very different in your hands. You heard it here first, you'll be seeing more of Billy Dallas Patton's artwork very soon, and a solid NINE for writer John Taddeo. Zoom Suit is easily the most bang for your comic buck this April
